

Learner Persona: Hector

Hector recently finished his degree and has moved to Edinburgh for his first job. He enjoys walking and baking.

Hector is a junior analyst for the Environment Agency. He did a BSc in Geography. He uses spreadsheets in his job and is happy with basic statistics, however, he has very little programming experience.

He needs to calculate basic summary statistics and plots for reports. He's heard about R, but is nervous about learning to program.

Hector's work laptop is locked-down.
